Donor support helped Michelle build a healthier future.

When Michelle enrolled in Youth Impact Jeunesse's Drug Intervention Program, funded through United Way, she was struggling with substance use, challenges at home and school, and declining mental health. She was at risk of falling behind and couldn't see a brighter future.

With compassionate support and her own determination, Michelle slowly began to rebuild her life. She set healthier boundaries, returned to school, balanced two part-time jobs, completed a co-op placement, and worked tirelessly toward graduation.

This past June, Michelle graduated ahead of schedule and successfully completed the program, achieving every goal she had set for herself.

Your gift makes stories like Michelle's possible. By giving to United Way, you're helping local youth find hope, overcome challenges, and build brighter futures right here in our community.
